

ON THE EMPTINESS OF IDENTITY

When the world of phenomena whirls like the wind that is coming to life.
When the wind, if you open the inner “door,” does not come in.
When the sky pours the water that it lifted from the earth.
When the water, if it falls, neither wets nor reflects anything.
When the sentient being that is form gets lost in emptiness.
When the sun shines and invades the darkness.
When the illusory, unreal, deceitful life pervades you.
When death, after decay, leads to destruction.
When from the Purity of the Non-born you reach the darkness of time.
When from the temporal obscurity of the darkness of life you return to the Non-Born.
When suffering generated by hatred and evil invades and surrounds you.
When the body, the senses, the mind, the intellect, the Self, are contaminated.
When the BASE leads to the Path and the Path to the Objective, which is the BASE.
When the True and Real aspect of Creation leads to the illusory aspect.
When the Illusory aspect of Creation leads to the True and Real aspect.
When all of this serves the “inconceivable harmonic interaction.”

Now we have a need for the “Last Events.” All past experience, with all its structural elements, has organized a comprehension which, due to the depth of emptiness (which will proceed towards the Emptiness of Emptiness), has no boundaries.

The extreme state of consciousness is achieved when one comprehends and then loses themselves in a simple Truth: the Eternal and Immutable Reality, as Its Absolute Creator. Why run away from this if the consciousness to be eternally acquired lies in it? What is the consciousness of the BASE? What is its origin? How many aspects does it have?

Of course, to begin with perceiving the aspects of waves of the ocean, in their manifold variety, is like trying to perceive the thoughts of all sentient beings and believe that they are reality! How can this be? We know that the immense world of phenomena has produced this. An interlinked continuity of events has created the moment that we are now experiencing. But consciousness is not only the mind, as those who are prey to the illusion declare and live. Are we only thought? To be interpreted, true and definitive - by whom? A ∞ ?

The BASE (timeless Universal entanglement), Universal Point of Consciousness, is the true container, container for all conscious, unconscious, latent and sensory activities. It gathers them and causes them to ripen as elements which will be added to the weave of the "Veil" which obscures Light, creating new destinies which provide the opportunity for additional learning experiences.

The weave of the Veil is an agent which gathers, therefore it is in perennial activity. At the same time it is a passive container which serves as an impediment to the separated consciousness of Love and the Compassion that the Light behind the Veil induces, thus increasing its thickness and so the impediment to evolution. This impediment will diminish access to the Light even more, until achieving complete obfuscation. Another BASE.

What are you expecting from Universal Consciousness if your own consciousness is confused due to the Higher Self, or if you are already convinced of possessing something? Remember, possessing Nothingness is the Greatest Wealth. Do you want to be paid with something, when you already possess "you are"? The consciousness which constructs your identity can be "Full," satisfied with what it constructs, seeds for new roots and seed plants for new roots, a perpetual concatenation (eternal, as freedom in the creation is eternal).

But all of this has an illusory support - the mind. Therefore the seeds all have the same nature even if they ripen differently, organizing the moment to be experienced. We are in a functional Reality, therefore real. A "Future" will be produced that is appropriate to the achievement of Paradise (Empty Identity) or a "Future" in the darkness, which in time may be like all the nuances of the Creation. Will these lives in suffering be endless, or will they have an end? This depends on what consciousness we are seeking and, in turn, that consciousness depends on the identity we seek, which is the fruit of the concatenation of constructed events.

We may suspect that we are dealing with a BASE which is positive for some and negative for others - but remember: this is the fruit of the “coarse and subtle” phenomena of the antecedent BASE + free expression in form of the same preceding consciousness.

The BASE cannot be positive because free experimentation in a painless Universe would not exist. It Cannot be negative, because the Absolute does not organize the “Worst” in Itself as Creator.

Therefore, without any “human” attribute, the BASE is Perfect-Limpid, Uncontaminable and Neutral, neither permanent nor impermanent. Without interruption, it evolves with all the aspects that it memorizes, maintaining its pure aspect, making the eternal evolutionary cycle and the realization of the Empty Identity possible. More useless words.

What has this identity been emptied of? Of all the terms used in the titles of this RESEARCH. Of all the subjects discussed and that has been written up to this very sentence.

On the other hand it is necessary to use other words for this search of the sentient being, within the sentient being. One must comprehend through logic, using the “reason” which is available to us.

Where are the seeds sowed if not in the soil, in the water? Where does the mind found its thinking? Where is its seed, where is it rooted, where does the plant produce its fruits and seeds? The first answers or indications can be found in the preface and the first chapter. We will talk about the mind later but with more knowledge - therefore more useless words.

The evolutionary process observed in reverse, scientifically regressing, obviously goes back to the Big Bang, soon after the Base. This regression occurs because: an independent phenomenon suspended in a nothingness before and a nothingness after does not exist! + In the law of cause-effect, the succession of phenomena is obligatory, therefore, from the Base to the mind, a concatenation of events.

The mind would not exist without the Base of the Universe. Without the Base, foundation of the type of Universe, how could we achieve the conscious nature of sentient beings who diversify their existences, each individual in their own unique way (unique existences based on birth, level, experiences, death)?

It is certain that each person organizes their own hell, paradise or obfuscating limbo. How could this diversity exist in a system generated randomly, without a God, without the law of cause-effect, without rules, atheistic, miscreant, vane, illusory, without results, that occurs and then disappears?

The ONLY SOLUTION is the Describable Harmonic Perfection (that's right, the "In" has disappeared) which is: with the Absolute Perfect Sole Infinite Creator, who creates from Nothingness. One infinitesimal point of his "Darkness" is enough to create a whole universe – immense to us but a point to the Absolute – already Perfect – that is, that cannot be adjusted by concepts, will, prayers, needs, the mental follies of sentient beings.

In the Infinite Creations of the Absolute (Which Is Infinite and performs Infinite Acts), It has organized the perfection of the infinite succession of Bases of Construction of every perfect Universe.

That having been said, we arrive now at the sentient being created by the Will of the Absolute as a free creature, which is however subjected to the dual value of good and bad actions. In the succession of Universes-Bases-worlds-sentient beings, these actions increasingly organize free experimental consciousness.

Why deprive the creature/freedom of its right to experiment? What have the theories or theologies-theosophies, or Religions in this world gone up against?

The facts, true or false, hidden or not, are all “written” in the Base. We wait for death, sure of Divine Justice. Every type of mind is conscious in a stable or unstable way, time in a universe is vast and variably relative and illusory; the bodies are vehicles in an extremely precise use (the Absolute does not play jokes on Its Creature).

The possession of a body is an index of evolutionary possibilities, possibilities which do not exist for those who, for certain time periods, do not possess one.

In the Base of the Universal Consciousness, this permits the organization of all the perfect intertwining of evolutionary Learning in freedom. If we, when we are dead, do not have support from the Base, how could we have thoughts of conscious presence? In this way, we know that we ALWAYS exist. This Energy of the Base permits us to perceive the immense Love of the One Owner of such Energy.

The huge chain of interdependence of and in the world of phenomena, which creates the mind and all the various aspects of consciousness (cells-neurons-atoms-senses-sensations-thoughts-intuitions, etc.) is a Universal constant, it must have Its Beginning: the Base, the “foundation” of the Creation.

“Floating” consciousnesses in a nothingness separated from before and after cannot exist, the presence of and in the world of form obligates connection. How does information reach the microtubules? From the entanglement of the protons which compose them and “other.”

Their interaction with the Mitochondria allows the Mitochondria to move around within the cell and provide energy – fundamental for the neurons in order to form new connections – causing modifications in the molecular interactions, and therefore determine whether energy will be used for new connections. This can modify the metabolism.

The connected whole begins to become evident and the entire sentient being, with its body, is continuously modified by the Energy of the Base.

Do we want to take another step towards the Empty identity? Do you believe that it is possible to escape from the Energy of the Base by isolating yourself from the System? That's not possible! A drop of the sea – in the sky, on the earth, in a rock, in a plant, in a sentient being – is ALWAYS in the universe.

If we are emptied of “certain” (illusory) identities and perceive the whole as One Harmony, we cannot have a separated identity, thus a Universal-Thusness-Emptiness identity. Such a condition of Undefined Paradise remains in the sentient beings who are emptied of thoughts, of “I”, of the Self and of every attribute. This condition does not cause the eternal stream of energies of the system to end. Therefore the Base manages what the Supremely Perfect Absolute Has already Decided for that Being.

The Peace that reigns is a sign of the harmony that provides serenity in every kind of storm of existence.

The sentient being generates so many thoughts, filling the veil which covers the Base with various elements. Sentient beings produce so much anger, rage, hatred, disharmony, chaos – all making the veil heavier. How much could it become lighter through Love-Compassion and positive reactions? No one can be the bookkeeper of this. There Is Only One Judge which has already Perfectly Created the System, which, Pure, memorizes, which determines in a clear and limpid way, which perfectly distributes the Energies, giving the world of Form new possibilities for new freedoms.

In duality, there is division into good and bad, light and dark; in Uniqueness it is always and in any case experimentation. Enough for now. A part of the Empty Identity has been described. And, Always remember, with Useless Words.
