

ON THE PATH TO THE BASE

(Part 1)

Two types of Emptiness: one is the absence of the reality of the sentient being, of the “I,” the illusory nature of a “body or entity” which is separate from the universal interaction; the other is the emptiness of phenomena, of the world of phenomena, without denying the subtle link between the two types of emptiness. The mine of this “Luminous diamond of inner Light” is the Base and it reaches you through the intellect.

This “perception” will lead you to perceive an Inner motivation to feel compassion for all sentient beings! This is the beginning of a pact with the “inconceivable harmonic interaction,” produced by the multiple “harmonics” which generate the perception-sensation from the Divine Word of the Creation in the sentient being, (we will return to this subject). Then the veils of the illusion which blocks the Light of the tear disappear.

These two types of emptiness eliminate all attachments to the world of phenomena, with all its illusory Bonds. The type of wisdom acquired is vast and universal. IT IS NO LONGER A WORD! Word has earned its tomb! It has now become a USELESS word, because the sentient being is that word, not just a mental phenomenon to be interpreted and assigned various values. This is the beginning of wisdom (NOT of love, for now) which leads to the beginning of compassion (no one knows whether it is perfect compassion). A good beginning. Like soldiers who defend their country, they sacrifice their lives, their bodies, to achieve their goal. In this way, they lose all connections and links to the world of phenomena.

Therefore perfect and determined seekers of spiritual realization, in their existence, in their lives, in proceeding along their paths, present themselves like tiny compassionate infinitesimal points at the disposal of the vastness of sentient beings - not seeking Paradise, because one sole Harmonic instance makes them happy (NOT the word happy, but true happiness). Seekers such as these no longer fear that they may be like broken or perforated containers unable to contain the teachings that the world of phenomena gives them.

They are not like upside down containers that are unable to perceive the immense teaching of the Creation. They no longer live with poisoned minds, which in turn poison the container itself as well as all other things, deforming them with passion, hatred and rage. They neither fear nor are deceived by that hopeless condition. They are linked to other seekers of spiritual realization like the rings of a steel chain, linked through the “emptiness” of the center they share. Those who are full cannot be linked. They are rings of paper (illusory, without any true strength) full of “I’s,” selves, thoughts etc. The rings of steel are not afraid of the poverty of being “the last” or of hard times. They are not afraid of any kind of negative opinions which might ruin their reputations. And they definitely do not fear death, as death is nothing but a moment in eternity, in which death and life are superimposed into infinity.

This is a marvellous position from which to begin your journey on the path towards the Base. It is already a harmonic instance that will form the “Chant of Love of the Absolute Infinite.” Of course it will take infinite time for the sentient being to realize the infinite harmonics. But, as we have been created by an “Infinite Creator,” could we possibly think that there would be an end?!

This having been said, we must learn to keep our sights on the “target.” Immersed in the apparent deterministic chaos, we are aiming from one point of the Universe to the other, I mean... to the other side of ourselves, sorry... to the other side of where we are... find ourselves? But, ... where are we? Aah..., useless Words.
