

ON THE INDIVISIBLE BEING

An emptiness is a Seal of Paradise, of the world of phenomena, without excluding anything of that which is conceivable and that which is not, without any exceptions. Namely, it is the Primordial Emptiness, the first Emptiness for every conscious being, because nothing can lie beyond it. Your first “Life,” consciousness/Universe, Base, Thusness, therefore Emptiness. Before this Truth, you were a part of the unborn, uncreated, un-lived. You were in the Primordial Emptiness which lies before any world of phenomena, before any phenomenon, before every “I” or Self; therefore it will be called the Emptiness of the Indivisible Being.

The Sacred Bond between the One Absolute Master and sentient beings is Indivisible. Only the Absolute in Its Eternal Will can dissolve it, due to the Eternal freedom that some crave (those who choose evil). To know the Sacred Bond is to arrive at Indivisible Being. After that, there is nothing more to learn, because even through the mere perception of Indivisible Being, all journeys and paths are overcome, the heart is fused with the One Beloved. The Infinite Consciousness has forever contained Its seeker but only in “that present moment” (1), does the infinitesimal point appear to the Absolute and is gathered up, even if he is already, in timelessness, the Indivisible Being.

The principle of transformation, or the law of Changes, which accompanies the sentient being from the beginning - that is, from the Emptiness of the Indivisible Being - is the law which dictates that the infinite directions spread out “from the beginning” (Infinite beings in Infinite Universes).

We were never separated from that which is Indivisible.

We are never outside of That Which is Infinite.

We will never be more than a point in the Immensity.

No sentient being will ever ask for more because in the Absolute, a point is Immortal.

What to ask for, if I am already lost!

What can one desire to be, if I already am non-being!

There is nothing to obtain because the Gift is already all things. Listen to...the sound of the world, see in the darkest night, lose the thought of that and...YOU ARE! And immediately, YOU ARE NOT. This is the Indivisible Being which comes forth from NOTHINGNESS.

Its Base, the non-Dual Gate, is a Pure and Permanent Consciousness, for all sentient beings, never contaminated, free from all obscurities derived from the illusory world of phenomena (Universes).

(1) “That present moment” – that time – that instant signifies the moment of the Encounter between the Absolute and the infinitesimal Point.
